Kemper Water Control Systems Inc.

Cookie Policy

This Cookie Policy (the "Policy") explains how Kemper Water Control Systems Inc. ("Kemper", "we", "us" or "our") use cookies and similar tracking technologies on this website and any related mobile applications that are operated by us (collectively, the "Site") for Site users who are residents of the United States. If you are a resident outside of the United States, please see the applicable privacy policy (and any cookie-related disclosures) on the website of our parent company, Gebr. Kemper GmbH + Co. KG.

Generally

Cookies, pixel tags, clear GIFs, web beacons and other website tracking technologies (collectively, "cookies") consist of text files or images that a website uses to remember information about you, such as login information, device ID and user preferences, and to track user activity on the Site.

Only strictly necessary cookies are active on our Site as a matter of course. Strictly necessary cookies allow the Site to be accessible, and without them some parts of the Site will not work or will not work properly. They are essential for the basic functionalities of the Site to operate. Accordingly, strictly necessary cookies do not require your consent.

We do not deploy non-essential cookies or analytical tracking technologies in the operation of our Site unless you have provided us your affirmative consent to the use of non-essential cookies or analytical tracking technologies under our cookies consent process.

We use common tracking technologies

When we utilize online non-essential tracking technologies, whether through cookies, web beacons or pixels (which are collectively referred to as cookies), on our Site, we request your consent. Cookies are commonly used, small text files that are placed on your hard drive by us or a third party when you visit the Site. Cookies store information which is then sent back to our servers or those of third parties.

As described in more detail below, we use these tracking technologies:

- to recognize new or past visitors to our Site
- to improve our Site
- to better understand the interests and uses of the Site by visitors to it

Functional and analytical cookies are used on our Site. Functional cookies enable certain parts of the Site to work properly and for your user preferences to remain known. Certain functional cookies are considered to be strictly necessary in order for the Site to work properly. Analytical cookies, among other things, collect information on how visitors use our Site and the content that users view most frequently. Cookies are either "session" cookies, which are deleted when you end your browser session, or "persistent" cookies, which remain on your device until their deletion by you or the party who served the cookie.

We may link the information collected by cookies with other information we collect from you pursuant to our Privacy Policy and use the combined information consistent with such Policy. If you are located in certain states of the United States, or in the European Union or the United Kingdom, you have certain rights that are described in our Privacy Policy, including the right to inspect, correct and delete the data that we have about you.

Control of certain tracking tools

You can set your browser settings either to receive our cookies or use our Site without cookie functionality. Please note that if you decline use of certain cookies, some functions of the Site may be unavailable and, unfortunately, we will not be able to present certain functionality or tailored content to you. In addition, certain cookie choices you make are browser- and device-specific.

Only strictly necessary cookies are active as a matter of course. Strictly necessary cookies allow the Site to be accessible, and without them some parts of the Site will not work or will not work properly. They are essential for the basic functionalities of the Site to operate. Accordingly, strictly necessary cookies do not require your consent.

We obtain user consent for the use of cookies that are non-essential, which assist us with non-strictly necessary functionality, as well as user preferences and analytics. Such consent is prompted by a cookie banner or pop up when you first access the Site. You can also disable cookies at any time through your device settings, although if certain cookies (such as strictly necessary / essential cookies) are disabled, related parts of the Site may not work properly or have full functionality.

Relationship to Privacy Policy

Any personal information collected through our use of cookies on the Site is subject to the terms of our Privacy Policy, which may be accessed at the following link:

Changes to Our Cookie Policy

We may update this Policy from time to time. If we make material changes to how we collect, manage, update, store, maintain, process or disclose your personal information under this Policy or our related Privacy Policy, we will post the most recent Cookie Policy on this page and prompt you to acknowledge that the Policy has changed or otherwise contact you to inform you about such changes. If any such change is material, we will provide a more prominent manner of notice (which may, but need not, include, by a more detailed explanatory posting on this Site or by email or other notification of the relevant changes).

The date that this Policy was last revised is identified at the bottom of this policy.
